

Germany Expects to Ratify Peace Treaty Early Next Week; Konencamp Calls Off Strike of Union Telegraph Operators

YOUNG SOLDIER MEETS DEATH IN RIVER TUESDAY

Ralph Book Drowned
Near Nelson Bridge
Yesterday.

BULLETIN.
At 2:10 o'clock this afternoon the Telegraph was advised that Ralph Book's body had been found near the bridge and that Coroner Whetston had started the inquisition.

Ralph Book, aged 33, a returned soldier who was given his discharge from the United States army three weeks ago today, was drowned in Rock river near the Nelson railroad bridge at about 8:15 o'clock last night, while in bathing with his brother-in-law, Lee Eubank, and up to a late hour today the body had not been recovered.

The young man, who as a member of the 17th Infantry saw service overseas, had put in a hard day plowing corn and in the evening expressed a desire to go swimming in order to cool off. His brother, Enos Book, with whom he made his home, and his sister-in-law, sought to dissuade him from going into the river, of which ice cream was a part, and accordingly he spent about an hour playing croquet in the farm yard before going to the river.

Had Sudden Attack.
According to the statements made by Mr. Eubank, who was alone with the unfortunate young man, they had barely entered the water at a point about four rods above the North-Western railroad bridge when the victim threw himself on his back. Eubanks noticed his strange actions and spoke to him, asking him what was the matter, and when he received no response he grasped his companion by the wrist.

Ralph did not answer or make any further move, and despite Eubanks' efforts, he sank and did not come up. Hurriedly summoned aid could not locate the body and all night long searchers worked in an effort to bring it to the surface. At 9 o'clock this morning grappling hooks were secured from Dixon.

SEVERAL DIXON PEOPLE "UP IN" AIR THIS MORN

One Lady, a Boy and Several Men Made Trips in Airplane.

We have a number of veteran air passengers in Dixon this evening. Lt. Diggins, formerly of the U. S. air forces, spent the morning joy-riding Dixon citizens, old and young, fair and not so fair, over the city at $10 per trip. Each trip lasted about six minutes and every passenger said it was worth the ride and then some. "Baps" Resek estimated the value of the jaunt he took at nothing less than fifty bucks.

The first passenger of the day was year-old Clark Duffy, son of John Duffy, who rode the machine from the country club, where it stayed during the night, to the landing field on the latter Burkett farm east of Dixon. Clark had to stretch some to peer over the side of the car, but he made it, and he can tell you all about what Dixon looks like from above. He said the town looked pretty small to him, but that everything was clear and easy to distinguish. The next passenger was the lad's father, John Duffy, who wasn't going to let his own youngster crow over him, and he was followed by Clarence Resek, Jay Atkins, Roy Etier, Clark Hess, James Bales, Miss Estelle Barton, Henry Bokhof and Lee Rice.

Miss Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton, was the only lady passenger. She donned the flier's head-gear and climbed in the machine with eagerness when pilot Diggins said she could go, and when she landed, the young aviator said that it was the finest experience she had ever had and she wished it could have lasted longer.

To Marshalltown.
Lt. Diggins, who is accompanied by Lt. C. R. Borkland, a former member of the British flying corps, left this afternoon in their plane for Iowa. Lt. Diggins will leave the plane at Cedar Rapids where he takes a train this evening for Minneapolis and Lt. Borkland will fly the machine to Marshalltown.

The flights in Dixon today were all made without the slightest mishap. The landing field was perfect and the pilot took his plane up, made the flight, and dropped back without a jar or an effort.

Fat men were out of luck today. Pilot Diggins announced that because of the "tann air" and lack of buoyancy in the air, he would not take up anyone who weighed above 180 pounds. This provided an alibi for a number of heavyweights who were not sure whether they wanted to go up or not.

Attorney Robert H. Scott returned Saturday from a business trip to Princeton. He reports seeing the first binder of the season at work in Hamilton township.

WHOLE CABINET WILL GREET PRESIDENT ON HIS ARRIVAL IN U. S.

Plans for Reception to Wilson Are Nearly All Complete.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, July 2.—Vice President Marshall and all members of the cabinet are expected to greet President Wilson at New York when he arrives Monday on the George Washington. Secretary Daniels has arranged for the members of the president's official family to go aboard the battleship Pennsylvania, flagship of the Atlantic fleet, which is to meet the presidential ship outside the New York harbor, and escort her to port.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, July 2.—Plans for the reception of President Wilson on his arrival from overseas on the steamship, George Washington, probably next Monday, were under discussion here today. Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, will have entire supervision of all arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the presidential party.

If President Wilson decides to begin his speaking tour of the country with an address here it is probable that a meeting will be arranged for Monday afternoon or Tuesday, depending on the date of his arrival.

VOYAGE IS SMOOTH.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
On Board the U. S. S. George Washington, Tuesday, July 1.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press.)—The presidential voyage continues under most favorable conditions with calm seas and mild sunny weather. Mr. Wilson has done some work on his message to congress, in which he will submit the treaties, protocols, and general results achieved at the Paris conference, but on advice of Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his physician, the president is giving considerable time to rest and recuperation, after the strenuous days he has just left behind and for those through which he soon must pass.

While no precise plans concerning the presentation message have as yet been announced, it seems probable that if the George Washington arrives in New York Monday as expected, the message read by Wednesday on Thursday.

Corn in Excellent Condition in This Section of State

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., July 2.—"Floods as a result of local excessive rains damaged or destroyed winter wheat and corn in many bottom lands of the central and southern counties," says the weekly report of weather and crop conditions in Illinois issued today by the weather bureau of the department of agriculture.

The report in part follows: "Corn made excellent progress and its condition is good to excellent in the northern and central divisions and fair to good in the south. Fields are very weedy in the south. The winter wheat harvest has begun in the south is general in the central and mostly completed in the south. Threshing has begun in the south.

"Reports indicate that considerable wheat has been blown down in the central counties and in some areas wet soil has delayed cutting. The condition of spring wheat is fair to good. The weather was too warm during June for oats and spring wheat but the past week was favorable.

"Considerable scab is appearing in oats, spring wheat and winter wheat. Pastures are good; clover cutting continues."

Florence, Tuesday, July 1.—(Delayed.)—The earthquake in this district Sunday caused 100 deaths, made several thousands homeless and destroyed 200 homes, six churches and several public buildings and schools, according to the latest compilation.

The work of relief proceeded with such rapidity today and tonight that virtually all those made homeless were given food and shelter. The military authorities who have been working incessantly, believe that the situation now is well under control.

Miss Agnes McFadden was here today from Amboy on business.

COMMISSIONERS FAVOR CONCERTS BY DIXON BAND

But Are Opposed to Any Free Music from Machines.

Deploping the lack of summer band concerts in Dixon and standing back of the musicians in their determination not to solicit funds with which to pay for these concerts, the city council last evening went on record as favoring an active campaign to raise funds from among residents of the city, which will make possible the resumption of concerts this summer.

Plain talk marked this part of the proceedings of the city commissioners last evening. The matter was brought up by Mayor Mark D. Smith who said that there was not a city in the country that had a better band than Dixon and not a city that appreciated a band any less. Referring to former years, when the band members solicited the funds with which they were paid for their concerts, Mayor Smith said he did not blame them for their decision not to take the burden on their shoulders again. A musician should not be obliged to have to earn his money twice, which is the case when he has to solicit it and then play a concert in order to get remuneration.

Band a Great Advantage
Mayor Smith pointed out the advantages of a band, how it attracts outside people and how it gives good, wholesome amusement to residents of the city. Then he said that the band would raise no concert fund this year that there would be no outdoor concerts this year if this had to be done.

He then suggested that a few committees be appointed to make a careful canvass of the city, to accept any contribution, large or small, from business men and any who will give. He suggested that the city could give a little, but that the council's moral support should be all that should be expected. He thought the people who enjoy the concerts should be willing to contribute to this fund, the same as a merchant or professional man. In past years the burden of supporting the summer concert plan has rested almost entirely upon the merchants. The Chamber of Commerce, he thought, should be interested enough to take hold of the proposition and boost it by work as well as funds.

Dixon Has Good Band
With the whole subject opened up, the commissioners took part in the discussion. Commissioner Slothower said that Dixon had as good a band as ever. He thought it was a better band within 10 miles of Dixon. He explained how the members practiced hard, maintained their own band hall and how they played nine concerts last year and got pay for three. He said the band will not beg for funds hereafter, that it was deserving of support and should get it without personal solicitation by the members. He estimated that a summer concert program would cost between $500 and $600, figuring $1.50 per man a concert. He said that there were many persons who signed up last year to pay a certain amount to provide summer concerts who have not yet paid their assessments.

Wants Longer Concerts

CALLED FIFTY TO TESTIFY IN CO. HOME CASE

Grand Jury is Now Investigating Many Accusations.

The April grand jury of the Lee County Circuit Court, recalled by Judge O. E. Heard on petition of State's Attorney Harry Edwards, to investigate charges of mismanagement and cruelty against Clyde Wicher, superintendent of the Lee County Infirmary, was convened by Judge Farrand at 10 o'clock this morning, and after the customary charge by the prosecutor, retired to take up its inquisition—one of the most momentous in the history of Lee county.

That the jury will complete its investigation before the end of the week is not considered possible by court attaches. Fifty witnesses have been subpoenaed and it is intimated that every charge that has been publicly made in connection with the management of the county home, and many charges which have not been publicly filed, will be investigated.

The state's attorney is determined that every angle of the affairs at the home shall be thoroughly gone into, so that when the inquisition is completed the people of the county may know whether charges which have been made are true.

Judge Farrand appointed James Devine of this city foreman of the jury and A. A. Rowland was elected clerk.

August and William Keithan, of Walnut, who attended the Walnut Masonic picnic at Lowell Park yesterday, called on their sister, Mrs. Ernest Wernick.

HEAD OF UNION BRINGS WALKOUT TO SUDDEN END

Commereial Wire Men Left Their Posts
on June 11.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 2.—The strike of telegraphers which began June 11 was called off at noon today by S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America.

President Konenkamp who returned from Washington this morning called off the strike after he had conferred with other officials of the union.

A statement addressed to the members of the organization by President Konenkamp read in part:

"When the present strike was declared against the telegraph companies under control of the wire administration it was understood that it would not be made an endurance contest. The strike was to be the final protest against the unfair and unjust treatment we have received since August 1918 at the hands of the wire administration.

"We realized that in order to make this protest effective it would be necessary to make the strike sufficiently acute to compel action.

"This does not seem possible now either through our efforts or the efforts of others we relied upon to help us. Acting upon this conclusion and with a view to serving your best interests I hereby declare the strike at an end, and you are instructed to return to work without further delay. You have made a gallant struggle for your rights as American working men and women.

"You have sought a minimum of the things which the present government administration says all workers should enjoy. You have not only been denied these rights but governmental agencies have been used to prevent you getting them by exercising your own economic strength.

"We find that sending telegrams from city to city in suitcases is now permissible although Western Union officials were arrested for doing so a year ago. We find that telegrams are being mailed without restrictions.

RAISE MONEY FOR CHRISTIAN CHURCH IN CITY

Plans Nearly Completed
By Architect N. S.
Spencer.

The Christian church plans for the new church building are progressing nicely, under the leadership of District Superintendent Ward E. Hall, who is spending three months in Dixon as the Acting minister.

Their architect, N. S. Spencer, has the drawings almost ready to submit to contractors for bids. Mr. Spencer designed the City Hall and the south side high school also in Dixon. The joint garage on their lot adjoining Sam Bacharach, has been disposed of to Mr. Bacharach and will be moved to his lot next week.

Mr. Hall and his collaborators started to raise the subscriptions this week and they are receiving larger gifts than they had even expected. The building committee for the new church is Al S. Dorr, chairman; Wm. C. Stauffer, John Netzt, Carl Buchner and Wm. Erbes.

Townley and Joseph Gilbert, non-partisan chieftains who are charged with conspiracy to commit disloyalty testified under direct examination that he had talked with Townley in the fall of 1917 and that during this conversation Townley said "we are against this war but we cannot afford to advertise it."

Tieg, it is understood, was dismissed from the non-partisan league after a controversy with Townley more than a year ago.

BRITISH DIRIGIBLE R-34 IS MAKING EXCELLENT TIME

Leaves England Early Today in Dense Fog
for America.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, July 2.—The British dirigible R-34, which left East Fortune, Scotland, at 1:48 o'clock, Greenwich time, this morning on her attempt to fly across the Atlantic, had reached 53 degrees 50 minutes north latitude, 17 degrees 50 minutes west longitude at 2 o'clock Greenwich time this afternoon (10 o'clock New York time.)

At that time the course of the airship was west and she was progressing at a speed of 31 knots.

The position of the R-34 at 2 o'clock Greenwich time was approximately 311 miles west of Clifden on the coast of Connaught, Ireland, indicating that the dirigible had taken a southwesterly course after her report at 12 o'clock Greenwich time, when she had reached 55 degrees 7 minutes north latitude 14 degrees and 50 minutes west longitude, approximately 250 miles west of Burton port, on the northwestern coast of Ireland. Her position at 2 o'clock also was approximately 500 miles from East Fortune, her starting point.

MAKES 45 KNOTS AN HOUR.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Eng., July 2.—The position of the R-34 at 8 o'clock this morning, Greenwich mean time, was 55 degrees, 20 minutes north latitude and 10 degrees 40 minutes west longitude (about 325 miles off the coast of Ireland), according to a wireless dispatch from the aircraft received by the air ministry this morning. The R-34 was then making 40 knots. Up to that time she had made an average speed of 45 knots an hour.

A wireless dispatch received from Major Scott at 10:05 o'clock this morning stated that the R-34 was passing through a thick fog but everything on board was going well.

STARTS WITHOUT CEREMONY.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
East Fortune, July 2.—The British dirigible R-34 started on her long heralded trip to America this morning with very little more of ceremony than that which attended the departure of dirigibles for their monotonous North sea patrol during the war.

Shortly before the first streaks of dawn broke over the plains near the great airship was quietly taken out of its air-drome and turned around until her nose was pointed west. The command "hands off" was given and the huge envelope quickly rose. Before the height of 500 feet was reached she was lost to view in the mist. The whirr of the propellers could be heard for several minutes after the several hundred foot airship went out of sight.

Part of Trip Rough.
The weather reports indicate that the R-34 will meet "unsettled conditions." (Continued on Page Five.)

GERMAN COMMUNIST MOVEMENT SPREADS; CABINET IS UNEASY

Strike of Railway Men Is Affecting Those in Other Trades.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, July 1.—(Delayed.)—The communist leaven has again arrived to the fermenting stage in greater Berlin and there are indications that the strike movement may develop into a political insurrection.

In the meantime Gustav Noske, minister of defense, is increasing his troop patrols in the inner city, planting reels of barbed wire at strategic points and generally tightening martial law regulations.

The government, while apparently satisfied the present strike movement is purely political and determined to treat it as such, nevertheless it is not under-estimating its grave influence on economic conditions.

Rail Strike Grows.
The cessation of the city rail traffic has had its influence on the workers of the suburban roads and belt lines, which stopped operating on the ground that the overcrowding of the cars is contrary to public safety.

Berlin's downtown streets today again were jammed with long lines of two, three and four wheeled vehicles, many of early types, which readily brought high fares. The few available automobiles and motor buses were quickly filled. Many persons are using bicycles or roller skates.

Halt Food Cargoes.
The most serious phase of the situation is the attempt of the striking rail workers to halt the movement of freight cars, especially those carrying incoming food and coal supplies.

Up to 4 o'clock this afternoon no disorder had been reported, although the cabmen protested loudly that their business had been interrupted on the ground that they were strikers.

The expected strike of bank employees did not occur as the organization of bank clerks disavowed the movement. Karl Emonts, said to be a strike leader, was arrested on a charge of being a bolshevist propagandist.

HOGS REACH $22; HIGHEST PRICE EVER RECORDED

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 2.—Hog prices today jumped far above yesterday's figures, which in turn had exceeded any previous record. The latest altitude is $22 a hundred weight, a rise of 25c in 24 hours.

Increased export demand for food products was the generally accepted reason for the continued unprecedented advance.

The greatly augmented value of hogs draws attention to the fact that in the number of hogs on farms, Iowa is the most distinguished state in the country. The estimate of the bureau of crop estimates for 1919 is 10,925,000 hogs in Iowa, 5,724,000 in Illinois, 4,943,000 in Missouri, 4,668,000 in Indiana, 4,266,000 in Ohio, 4,250,000 in Nebraska and 3,043,000 in Georgia. Every other state is below 3,000,000. Iowa hogs are about one-seventh of the nation's total, and nearly double the number in Illinois, the state next below.

10,000 Linemen and Operators on Strike

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., July 2.—Approximately 10,000 operators and linemen affiliated with the electrical workers union are now on strike in the Pacific coast district, according to Secretary Charles P. Ford, of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers who said today that telephone service had virtually been suspended in California, Nevada, Washington and Oregon. Negotiations between the union officials and representatives of the companies are continuing Mr. Ford said.

No word relative to the threatened strike in Louisville, Ky., had been received this morning by Mr. Ford who stated that the electrical workers were scheduled to walk out in that city either last night or this morning.

The situation in St. Louis, where electrical workers have been on a strike for several days, was unchanged according to Mr. Ford.

P. M. COLLECTED BIG BUNCH OF JUNE FINES

Police Magistrate Sheller this morning turned over to the City Treasurer the sum of $104.50, representing fines assessed and collected in his court during the month of June. This is an exceptionally large amount and the proportion of the amount collected is also unusual.

Today about 1000 saloons were open but nothing but near beer and other soft drinks were sold. The police department have been ordered to rigidly enforce the search and seizure law which prohibits the sale of beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. Many saloon keepers who have closed are retaining their licenses in the hope of re-opening after August 1 when they expect the wartime prohibition ban will be raised.

TWO DIXON HORSES ENTERED IN RACES

Two Dixon horses are entered in the matinee races which will be held at Mineral Springs Park, Sterling, Friday, in connection with the big celebration to be held there. They are a gray horse owned by J. C. Wadsworth, entered in one of the pacing events; and A. H. Bosworth's Evstar, in the half-mile trot.

Paris, July 2.—(Havas.)—The Franco-British and Franco-American treaties, the Journal says, provide that the intervention of England and America on behalf of France against Germany shall be inter dependent. Great Britain and the United States, it is added, will only help France by combined action and not separately. The newspaper declares that their intervention must occur if the disarmament of the Rhine territory is not sufficient to protect France from German aggression.

GERMAN RATIFICATION.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, Tuesday, July 1.—(Delayed.)—Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, states that it is authoritatively informed that no definite steps have as yet been taken by Germany for a speedy ratification of the peace treaty, for the reason presumably that a number of preliminary questions, particularly those exactly fixing the frontiers in regions to be ceded, must be settled.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS.

ROSE DOUBTS SANDRA'S LOVE FOR EVERETT.

CHAPTER VIII.

I wish I could prescribe understandingly the emotions I felt in those weeks preceding my wedding. One day I was all eagerness to try that new life that was to be mine, the next all fear, and unwillingness. I tried to think of Everett as all a lover should be (had been) before I met him. But I felt often depressed, gray and overcast like some of the days just passed. The sweet urge of spring was gone; that time when I felt the buoyancy of youth, and I sometimes felt the tears beneath my lids, as I thought of the leaves and buds having lived their short lives and fallen, and wished like mother that Everett had been content to wait until spring came again.

I never had liked the fall of the year. In a way it always saddened me. It seemed to me that when the wind sighed in the tree-tops, or when it whispered so mournfully thru the shrubs, that it was moaning with regret because of the coming death of all about. But never had I given voice to this feeling, I feared no one would understand.

And much of the time I was so excited over my pretty clothes, my gifts the linen shower the girls gave for me that I had not time for sad thoughts, or to worry about the future.

Sometimes I wondered in a vague sort of way just why Everett Graham had asked me to marry him. How he had come to look at me at all in the light of a wife. But like others I had heard that love "love goes where it is sent" and his was probably sent to me. When I said so to Rose, she replied in a real sharp way:

"I wish it had been sent to some one else."

Rose couldn't be reconciled to me marrying Everett. Not that she disapproved him, she said often:

"He is a charming man, Sandra. But you can't be happy just because a man has nice manners, and knows how to wear his clothes. A girl has got to have something besides that. I am older than you are Sandra, but I'd be frightened to death to marry a man unless I just felt I couldn't live another minute without him. You don't love Mr. Graham like that, do you?"

"No—I guess I could live—without him." I said slowly, trying to analyze my feelings as I answered. "But Rose, I have read stories where people didn't care so terribly much, and then love came in a blinding flash—those are just the very words 'a blinding flash.' Perhaps that is the way it will come to me if I don't love Everett enough now."

"Blinding flash nothing. Maybe you do love him all you can, Sandra. Maybe you aren't the kind that cares very much about love." Rose was sentimental, yet of the two I was far more alive to all that was emotional than was she.

I made up my mind that just as soon as we were married I should ask Everett about a lot of things. I wouldn't dare before, of course. But he must first of all tell me all about his first wife, and tell me he loved her far better than ever he had loved her. That was the most important thing of all. Then he must tell me all about his women friends, those he had called upon since he had been a widower, and if he had been in love with any of them, and a dozen other things I wanted desperately to know. Then I would write Rose and tell her how mistaken she had been, and show her how foolish she was to think Everett was too old to make me happy.

My faith that all his answers would set me at ease shows the little knowledge of what the replies to such questions as I meant to ask might mean to me—if they were honestly answered.

There was one thing about me I was sure Everett liked, that was my name. He had told me so often, and everything he sent me was marked simply "Sandra." No initials, or monograms. He had told me that an unusual name always attracted him. Mine surely was unusual, so of course he was pleased with it.

Had I known that even the liking he had for unusual names was to be a distressing factor in my life, I should not have been so proud that mother had called me Sandra.

Tomorrow—Sandra's Wedding Eve.

SANDRA'S WEDDING EVE.

CHAPTER IX.

The night before my wedding I sat long at my window. I had read of brides spending the early hours of the last night in their homes in that way. But in the stories it was always moonlight, and the scent of flowers was in the air. But it was awfully dark that night, only a faint vague light from a few pale stars illumined the darkness, accentuating the gloom. There was a raw cold wind. I finally fell asleep in my chair. When I awoke I was shivering with cold. I crept hastily into bed, and pulled the covers over my head for warmth. I mumbled a prayer and went to sleep immediately. I did not once think of my wedding day, or of Everett Graham—the man I was to marry.

My wedding dress was laid out on the bed in the "spare" room as we called the guest chamber. The rest of my simple trousseau was packed in the new trunk father had given me, my initials on the end. "S. G." Sandra Graham. It seemed so queer to have it done before I had any right to the name.

Everett had urged mother not to bother much about clothes, as he would get me whatever I needed in New York. But mother had provided me with a plentiful outfit of needful things, and several simple but good dresses. Mother was dreadfully proud, and she told father when they thought I wasn't around that she didn't propose to let her laughter go to any man without enough good clothing.

We weren't to have a large wedding. Just a few of my friends and relatives. Everett said he hadn't any relatives living near and they were only distant cousins at that. He would only ask a couple of the men in the branch office in our town.

On the morning of my wedding I was to meet my friends when we got settled, he had said when I murmured because he would invite no one. He also objected to sending out invitations. "We will send announcements after we are married and give our home address. You write your own friends."

informal notes. It is quite the thing to do, so don't look so disappointed," he had tweaked my ear while he talked. I wished he had kissed me instead.

The morning of my wedding day I awoke feeling that something was going to happen. Then all suddenly I realized that it was my wedding day, that by the time the sun had set I should be "Mrs. Graham" instead of Sandra Courtney. I ran to the window and pulled up the blind. It was a wonderful morning. The air was crisp and cold, and the sun shone gloriously. I felt happy, that all was going to be well with me.

"Happy is the bride the sun shines on," even if she is lazy! It was Rose Graham's mocking voice. She caught me in her arms and whirled me around the room until we were both breathless. "Get into your clothes, lazy bones. I've come to have breakfast with Sandra Courtney."

We cried a little at the idea of Sandra Courtney's last breakfast, but had a real jolly breakfast, altho I caught mother wiping her eyes behind the coffee urn. The morning just disappeared as Rose said, it went so fast. At twelve o'clock Everett came. He kissed me before then all, making me blush horribly, and giving Toodles and Buster such wicked joy that I blushed again at their giggles.

Everett brought me the loveliest string of pearls. Not a long string, neither were the pearls very large, but of a wonderful color and brilliancy, and perfectly matched.

"I am afraid you will spoil the child!" mother said in her quiet tones. Everett only laughed in a way he had, and fastened them about my neck.

"I wonder if they were his first wife's?" Toodles whispered to Rose, and she told him to keep quiet, and not say such things. But I had overheard, and it sort of spoiled my pleasure in my gift. Yet as I looked at the dainty, absolutely new case in which they came, I felt sure Everett had bought them for me.

It seemed to me that I was hearing many things that day which were not intended for my ears.

"She has been potted all her life father," it was mother talking, and I shamelessly listened. "Mr. Graham is a cold, unromantic man, I feel anxious about her."

"Oh, he'll be demonstrative enough when they are alone. I believe he will make Sandra a good husband. But men of his age aren't apt to gush in public you know."

Someway this conversation made me uneasy. Was Everett "cold," and wouldn't he pet and love me? I should be almost afraid of a man, a husband who would not be loving towards me.

Chicago Was Quiet on First Dry Night

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., July 2.—Only one arrest was recorded at the South Clark street police station last night, as against an average of more than 200 a night. Lt. McMahon, in command of the district, which had a large number of saloons until yesterday, said that "in the old days" the station had housed as many as 300 prisoners a night. "Cleaning the district," which is the southern half of the central business section, used to mean picking up persons from doorways and alleys, the lieutenant said. A detail was sent out each night for the purpose, he added, and last night this detail had reported "district is clean"—they had made but a single arrest.

Robert Herbst, of Nachusa, was knocked out of the hay loft on the farm of his brother, John Herbst, of this city, in Nachusa township yesterday afternoon and sustained painful injuries. Mr. Herbst was assisting with the mowing away of some hay and was crowded by the carrier, dropping several feet and landing on the floor on the back of his head and shoulders. He was rendered unconscious by the fall and a Dixon physician was immediately summoned. Upon the arrival of the physician Mr. Herbst was still in a semi-conscious state and was bleeding profusely from the nose and mouth. For a time it was feared that he had suffered from a hemorrhage of the brain but upon examination it was found that his injuries were not of a serious nature, nevertheless they will necessitate his remaining quiet for several days.

German Government Will Not Attempt to Protect Hollweg

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, Monday, June 30.—(Delayed.)—Dr. Theobald Von Bethmann-Hollweg, former German chancellor, offered on May 29, 1919, to surrender himself for trial by the allies, but withdrew the offer on the specific request of the government which at that time took the view that Germans accused of causing the war or of acts in violation of the rules of civilized warfare should be tried either before a local court or German judges. His attitude at that time, therefore, was held to be undesirable.

Now, however, after peace has been signed and the Germans have agreed to extradite persons whom the allies desire to place on trial, the action of the former chancellor in offering to surrender to the allies is looked upon as purely personal. The government does not object to his action as it is believed that he is one of those whom the entente intends to bring before the high tribunal.

The price of these farms are right and the terms will be made to suit you. These farms are located in

THE RAINY DAY!

Now while you are enjoying good health, while wages are high and employment is steady, don't you think it would be an appropriate time to lay the foundation for a home of YOUR OWN? However, good health, high wages and steady employment are likely to cause one to overlook the future. Remember that there will come a time when your earning power will lessen or possibly cease. That in time of sickness or misfortune a little real estate never comes amiss. That to speculate in stocks is risky, even dangerous, but when you buy real estate you are buying an inheritance. That a landlord is a hard master, and that a home owner enjoys perfect contentment and independence. That you can pay for a small farm at SUBURBAN ACRES with money you are not likely to otherwise save. That if you buy one of our acre farms you are then certain to save at least $10 per month. That the man who draws wages and spends it all may be a success socially or a good fellow in the eyes of the "boys," but financially speaking he is an absolute failure. That the habit of saving is almost as easily formed as one of extravagance. That anyone can earn money but few there be who save it. That the wise man lays by something for the rainy day while the foolish fellow spends his all.

THEIR JUDGMENT GOOD ENOUGH FOR YOU!

SUBURBAN ACRES contains 119 acres. We placed this property on the market last Saturday morning—since which time all of it except 44 acres, have been sold to responsible and representative citizens of Dixon and vicinity. These men know values and understand local conditions. Their judgment ought to be good enough for you. However, if YOU intend to buy one of these farms you had better see about it today. Tomorrow may be too late.

City Lots at Sacrifice Prices

We also offer for sale 6 lots in Hillcrest Addition, 12 lots in Dement's Addition and 24 lots in Parson's Industrial Addition. These lots are all located in the southwest part of Dixon and have heretofore been held at $200 to $400 per lot. We are offering them for a few days only at prices ranging from $75 to $300 on terms of $10 cash and $6 per month. No taxes. No interest. 10% discount for cash. If you want a real bargain in a fine building lot see us at once. FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED.

with variable winds, until she is some distance out into the Atlantic. Then it is expected she will have following winds to assist her.

Not more than a score of people motored the 21 miles from Edinburgh to the airdrome here to witness the start but among them was one American woman who presented a silk American flag to Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne, American flight commander, just before he stepped into the gondola.

Aside from these few persons the only spectators were the 300 men and 160 women stationed at the airdrome.

Balloon Rises Easily

Thanks to the light breeze and wind breaks erected on each side of the airdrome, the task of getting the R-34 out was not a difficult one. She was towed to a point about 300 yards away from the airdrome and after being turned around, all five of her powerful motors were started humming.

When the "hands off" bugle was sounded, the airship started to rise, her propellers began to spin and almost before the cheering had ceased the great flier had disappeared in the mist.

Success is Expected

The flight is not regarded here as an unusual feat. There is the utmost confidence in the ability of the R-34 to make the trip. There were no serious minded farewells between the crew and those who saw them off, and the feeling among officers here might be expressed in the remarks of Colonel Hunt, who said:

"You know, we always have a ladies' night, on Wednesdays, and have our friends out here. We just moved that night up to Tuesday and of course the officers of the R-34 were here."

Case Continued—The case of the city against Sam Spell, which was to have been heard by Police Magistrate Sheller yesterday afternoon was continued until tomorrow morning.

Lewis Asks Labor to Halt Mooney Strike

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 2.—Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, today sent a letter to the Chicago Federation of Labor urging that the threatened general strike planned for July 4 to enforce a new trial for Mooney and Billings be abandoned. He declared that such a strike would lose the confidence and good will of the people for organized labor and cause privation and suffering in the ranks of labor without accomplishing any good result.

U. S. Exports in May Total 606 Millions

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, July 2.—Exports from the United States during May were valued at $606,379,589, the department of commerce announced today and on the basis of estimates covering June exports, exports for the fiscal year ending June 1, have amounted to $6,806,000,000 by far the largest total in the history of American foreign trade. The greatest export total previously recorded, during the fiscal year 1917 was $6,320,000,000.

Imports for May as announced were valued at $328,927,139, and estimates of June imports bring the probable total of imports for the fiscal year to $3,102,000,000 leaving an estimated balance in trade for the United States of $3,704,000,000. This also exceeds the previous record total that of the fiscal year 1917, when the balance in trade favoring the United States was reported at $3,631,000,000.

Independence Day in Paris Big Occasion

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, July 2.—The celebration of Independence day will begin in Paris today with a reception to General Pershing, Rear Admiral H. S. Knapp and 1500 American officers by the Municipal Council at the city hall. George Leygues, minister of marine, will give a dinner to General Pershing and forty other American generals.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR HAS FILED APPEARANCE

Public Administrator Geo. W. Hill of Lee Co. this morning filed in the county court his appearance as administrator of the estate of Jerry Occenare, who died at the County Infirmary June 15, and whose heirs, it is said, are entitled to compensation which should have gone to him following his injury in an accident at Ashton.

er Slothower replied that the time of the concerts here was the same as in other places outside of Chicago.

In closing the discussion Mayor Smith suggested that the band give a concert and that arrangements be made to pass subscription lists through the crowd at that time and that those who do not wish to subscribe a definite sum, be asked to give something for the privilege of hearing a single concert. He said Dixon should be ashamed of its attitude toward the band and that it didn't deserve a good band.

Deplores Lack of Signs

Commissioner Slothower brought to the attention of the council the lack of guide posts along the highways leading into Dixon. He said every other city in this part of the state had erected signs along the highways, pointing toward the city, giving the distance and direction, but that in all of his travels about Dixon he had failed to find one of these signs, except some for advertising purposes. On the other hand he said that signs pointing to Sterling and other cities can be found within a very short distance of this city.

Commissioner Campbell stated that he thought Chamber of Commerce at one time had purchased a large number of these signs, but that he was unable to tell what became of them.

Commissioner Slothower reported that one of the large packing companies in Chicago called up the police department a week ago protesting against the hauling of its meat from the refrigerator cars to dealers without being covered and the company claims that the meat becomes infected when so handled. He said orders would be given to have this practice stopped in Dixon.

Be Careful July 4.

He also issued warning that firecrackers and other explosives should not be touched off on the streets on the Fourth of July. They can be used only at homes. Revolver firing is also under ban on that day and the law will be strictly enforced.

Many Want Streets Oiled

It was reported that seven or eight petitions asking for street oiling have been filed with the city clerk and that the work will be started as soon as the first car of oil, which has been ordered, arrives here. The streets will be oiled in the order the petitions are filed. All dirt and macadam streets will be taken care of after the property owners present their petitions signifying they are willing to stand the nominal expense.

Advertise for Oil

Bids will be asked at once for a pressure oiler with which to spread the oil. Harry Emerson was present and explained the Entyre oiler for which he is agent. He offered to take the commissioners to Oregon where one of these machines is in operation and arrangements were made for Mayor Smith, Commissioners Palmer and Armstrong to go there this morning.

Commissioner Armstrong called attention to the city ordinance which provides that trees over sidewalks and streets shall be trimmed to at least 10 feet above the ground. This ordinance will be strictly enforced.

"Free" Music Hit

Complaint was made to the council regarding the practice of some businesses playing phonographs and other musical instruments which stand in the front of the business place. It was declared to be a nuisance and will be stopped unless the proprietors themselves see fit to discontinue the practice. It was explained there was no objection to playing these machines for the benefit of their customers, but that it was annoying to have them played for the benefit of all out-doors.

Bicycle Riders Cautioned

Commissioner Slothower said his attention had been called to the practice of some boys of riding across the bridge on the walks. He said any complaints will be carefully followed up and prosecutions will follow.

A representative of the Standard Oil company was present and offered to sell the city oil for the streets, 50 per cent asphalt, for about 5.8 per gallon, F. O. E. Dixon. He asked to be allowed to figure on the next purchase made by the city.

ATTENDED COMMENCEMENT

Word has been received from Mrs. S. P. Lowery that she has arrived at Warren, O., where she is visiting her son, Charles H. Lowery and wife. After spending several weeks there she will go to on to Pennsylvania for visits with relatives and friends. While in Warren she attended the 50th commencement exercises of the Dana Medical Institute, where her son is head of the violin department.

Great Arena Ready for Title Contest on July 4, Says Rickard

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Toledo, O., July 2.—The last of the preliminary details of boxers, promoters and arena constructors will be completed today and with the gathering up of stray strands the stage will be set up for the heavy weight championship bout between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey scheduled for Friday afternoon. The principals will do but light training work. Willard boxing a few rounds, while the challenger will continue his efforts to easy limbering up exercises and some shadow boxing.

At about the same hour the last nail will be driven in the arena which is to seat some 80,000 spectators and the greatest fight stadium of ancient or modern times will be ready for its burden of humanity on the fourth of July. In many respects it is the greatest sport amphitheatre ever erected—certainly the greatest ever constructed for temporary use only.

200,000 Can Stand.
In addition to the 80,000 spectators who can be seated comfortably there is standing room for close to 20,000 more so that the total capacity approaches the 100,000 mark. Four times the size of the Reno fight stadium it measures over 600 feet across and the farthest seat is just 290 feet from the center of the ring. There are 24 miles of seats. The ring will rise five feet above the floor of the stadium and will measure 24 feet square over all. Each side of the square, measured along the ropes, is exactly 20 feet.

The ring foundation is braced and supported by the heaviest kind of posts and beams until there is not a quiver when several 200 pound men plunge around upon the structure.

Is Well Constructed.
It is the claim of the contractors and builders that the ring and its foundation would support an eight story building.

Counterfeit tickets for admission to the arena have turned up in the hands of innocent purchasers who state that they bought them in other nearby cities. The tickets are but a poor copy of the real steel engraved admission and are not likely to cause trouble to the gate keepers on Friday.

Bootlegger Kills Rushville Officer

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rushville, Ill., July 2.—Alvin Parr, out on bond on a charge of bootlegging, Tuesday afternoon shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Edward Thompson of Schuyler county, when he with Sheriff Lashbrook and Rev. Homer Tanner attempted to search the Parr home for more liquor. The shooting attracted a number of citizens who surrounded the house. The sheriff demanded Parr's surrender. Parr fired a shot at the sheriff, who was in an adjacent room, then turned the gun on himself, blowing out his brains.

U. S. Mints Make New Record for Coinage

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, July 2.—United States mints established a new record for monthly output in June by turning out 83,161,000 pieces of money. Director Ray T. Baker announced today. Of the total pieces 91,364,000 were pennies, which was 13,000,000 greater than the previous record made in December 1917. The remainder consisted of 6,427,000 nickels, and 370,000 dimes.

For the fiscal year the mints coined $19,610,617 in 438,024,458 pieces of which 347,056,300 were one cent pieces. Other coinage included 29,157,500 nickels, 28,795,000 dimes, 18,801,000 quarters, 14,104,600 half dollars, and 100,955 Illinois centennial half dollars.

The mints also did a large amount of work for Peru, Argentina, Siam and the Philippines.

Yanks Want German Girls for Brides

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Coblenz, Tuesday, July 1.—(Delayed)—The judge advocate's department at army headquarters here was kept busy today with inquiries from various parts of the occupied area as to whether marriages between American soldiers and German girls would be allowed, now that the peace treaty has been signed. More than 140 inquiries were made today by various individuals including several officers.

A ruling on the question will be made in a few days. The order against fraternizing with Germans still is in force nominally at least and will continue probably until Germany ratifies the treaty.

Northern Michigan Fights Forest Fire

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 2.—Reports from the territory extending 40 miles westward from here aver which forest fires were sweeping yesterday and last night, indicated early today that shifting winds aided the fire fighters and that Trout Lake, Racine, Seney and other menaced villages may be saved from destruction.

France Will Import Coal from the U. S.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Tuesday, July 1.—(Delayed)—Louis Loucheur, minister of reconstruction, said in the chamber of deputies today that the French government is arranging to import one million tons of coal from the United States, using a special fleet for the work. He assured the chamber that, while France might not be able to face the coming winter without misgivings regarding the fuel supply, she would be able to tide over the coal crisis, which, he added, is world wide.

CHICAGO FIREMEN REFUSE TO FLUSH DIRTY STREETS

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 2.—The crisis in the city's troubles with its employees over wages appeared to have passed today, although it was reported Fire Marshal O'Connor had refused to grant a request of Health Commissioner Robertson to have firemen flush central district streets and those in poor sections as a health precaution. The streets have not been cleaned since the strike a week ago of street cleaners and garbage collectors.

BOOTLEGGING GAINS IN MEXICAN TOWNS ACROSS U. S. BORDER

No Effort Being Made to Curtail Illicit Traffic There.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
El Paso, Texas, July 2.—Bootlegging has assumed widespread proportions in Agua Prieta, Sonora, Mexico, across the border from Douglas, Arizona, according to Americans who have investigated liquor conditions in the border state. Open saloons are prohibited by Sonora state laws, but little or no effort has been made by the authorities to curtail illicit liquor traffic, they say. Cognizance of the situation has been taken by the authorities, however, to the extent that a bill has been introduced in the state Chamber of Deputies permitting the establishment of open saloons for the sale of light wines and beer under strict state supervision. The bill purposes limiting the number of saloons in accordance with population and the payment of high state and municipal licenses.

Well informed Mexicans believe that saloons will return under the proposed new law as they contend that while General P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, is an advocate of prohibition he would much prefer the legalizing of the liquor traffic with the consequent revenue to combating the increasing number of bootleggers.

The liquor situation in Agua Prieta is a troublesome one to the better class of Sonora Mexicans and residents of Douglas and other border towns. It is pointed out that Agua Prieta offers easy access to any one in Douglas who desires to obtain liquor. At the present time certain Mexicans with a great show of friendship invite Americans across the line to visit the bootleggers.

The Mexican policemen watch all visitors closely and, it is reported, make a practice of arresting Americans when their conduct becomes boisterous and robbing them of their money and other valuables. Should the Americans protest there is always the alternative of a real arrest and a prison sentence or a heavy fine. Some observers here say the reopening of the saloons will do much toward making a bad situation worse.

Summer School at "U" Largest Ever

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Urbana, Ill., July 2.—Although definite figures are not available, a registration of 1,200 students at the University of Illinois summer session is practically assured. The thousand mark has already been reached. This is the largest summer session enrollment in the history of the University. According to C. M. McConn, University registrar, there are two reasons. One is that many of the registrants have been in the service or in the S. A. T. C. at the University and their courses were very irregular. By staying for summer school they will get them straightened out for next year. Another reason is that this summer session has been better advertised among the teachers of the state.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

SPEAKS FOR THE BOYS.

Dixon, Ill., July 1, 1919.
In behalf of the little lads who got into mischief in the Loveland school, I would like to state there are a great many erroneous reports, that electric wires were torn down, windows broken and several hundred dollars of damage done.

The youngsters spent the biggest part of Monday and cleaned the school up to the satisfaction of Mr. Monahan. While no mother will uphold her child in the doing of mischief, these boys are fine manly boys and each on the best of terms with their teacher. It was simply a case of uncontrollable mischief which, when the kiddies saw what that had done, were very penitent.

Why so much fuss over what a few youngsters of tender age should do when boys, nearly men, have done more destructive mischief in the other school, boys who were old enough to know and do better? We only hope that this molesting of the schools will now be at an end. A MOTHER.

Brain or Heart Shocked?

Physicians, to whom the circumstances of the drowning have been related, are of the opinion that the boy suffered some attack of the brain or heart, since he made no struggle for life and did not answer Eubanks.

It is recalled by those who had known the boy all his life that when he was fifteen or sixteen years of age he had been thrown from a horse, receiving injuries to his head which brought about unconsciousness for over four weeks, and that for years after that accident he had suffered periodical attacks of mental derangement. However, these attacks had not been noticed for the past several years, but it is considered possible that the excessive heat of yesterday may have brought on old trouble, and that one of these attacks had resulted in his death.

Coroner On the Job.
Coroner Whetsten was summoned to Nelson last night by a message which erroneously announced that the body had been found, and he arrived there at 10:40 o'clock. He assisted in the search for the body all night and will remain until the body is recovered.

In addition to the brother with whom he made his home, the victim of yes-

BAD BREATH Caused by Acid-Stomach

How can anyone with a sour, gassy stomach, who is constantly belching, have heartburn and suffer from indigestion have anything but a bad breath? All of these stomach disorders mean just one thing—Acid-Stomach.

EATONIC, the wonderful new stomach remedy in pleasant tasting tablet form that you eat like a bit of candy, brings quick relief from these stomach miseries. EATONIC sweetens the breath because it makes the stomach sweet, cool and comfortable. Try it for that nasty taste, congested throat and "heavy feeling" after too much smoking. If neglected, Acid-Stomach may cause you a lot of serious trouble. It leads to nervousness, headaches, insomnia, melancholia, rheumatism, scabies, heart trouble, ulcer and cancer of the stomach. It makes its millions of victims weak and miserable, listless, lacking in energy, all tired out. It often brings about chronic invalidism, premature old age, a shortening of one's days.

You need the help that EATONIC can give you if you are not feeling as strong and well as you should. You will be surprised to see how much better you will feel just as soon as you begin taking this wonderful stomach remedy. Get a big 50 cent box from your druggist today. He will return your money if you are not satisfied.

EATONIC (FOR YOUR ACID-STOMACH)

SAVE THE CHILDREN

The mothers of the Twentieth century will go down into history as being true patriots. They have tearfully, ungrudgingly and bravely given of their own flesh and blood that true Democracy might prevail throughout the world and that the strong arm of Imperialism should be shattered once and for all. When this war is won it will be said, in more ways than one, that it was won by the Mothers of the country.

But you mothers, who have sent your dear boys "over there" to fight for world-wide liberty, also have a duty to perform with reference to the babes in your arms and your sons and daughters of tender age. Do you know that not very long ago, at the Y. M. C. A. at Kansas City fifteen hundred boys were examined and fifty per cent of them were found to have some form of spinal trouble? If those boys had been examined by a competent Chiropractor when they were yet infants, these faults could have been corrected.

If your little baby is sick, weak, puny or not properly developed in some part of the body there must be a Cause and nine times out of ten it is found in the spine. Do not wait with the expectation that the baby will outlive the weakness; have the spine palpated and if necessary adjusted. Many a boy, many a girl has gone to a premature grave or lingered through life a miserable cripple when a Spinal Analysis made in infancy would have detected some weakness which Chiropractic Adjustments would have corrected.

Nature is the only true Healer. Spinal Adjustments eliminate the cause of the trouble and Mother Nature heals. You say, "Oh, yes, that's a beautiful theory, but like all other beautiful theories, it's too good to be true." It is not only a beautiful theory, but it is beautifully true, as the thousands of men and women who have been helped will attest any day.

"Save the Children." The children of today will be the men and women of tomorrow. You can do this by safeguarding their health while they are still in your arms.

TREATY SIGNED, NOW WATCH 'EM

Bell and Mueller have signed the peace treaty for the Germans. Germany is defeated. As soon as demobiliza-tion has been made complete the United States will have peace.

Following the signatures of Bell and Mueller was affixed that of President Wilson, in shorthand. There is no doubt that Bell and Mueller would like to have made their signatures as short as possible, inasmuch as they were up against the necessity of writing them at all.

The peace that is signed is necessarily a peace of compulsion. It is a peace of justice, insofar as it was possible to get justice. Full justice could not possibly have been exacted from them even were the whole country parceled out among the allies and all the German people enslaved. The crimes of German rulers, approved and applauded by the whole people, have been too great and too heinous to be atoned for in any human way.

The peace is signed, but the Germans are not good sports. They must be watched. Had they been victorious, there would have been no quality of mercy in the peace they would have exacted. They were beaten in the war despite all their infamous methods of offense; they quit as soon as they knew they were beaten, signing the armistice for the especial purpose of saving their country from invasion. The armistice once signed, they claimed they had not been beaten at all; that their great love of humanity had induced them to stop you the awful bloodshed. Beside this, the justice of Mr. Wilson's fourteen points, as they saw fit to interpret them, had appealed to them. They figured it out that application of the fourteen points would forgive them all their sins and allow the vanquished to be treated as if they had been victors. They claimed the right to be treated as an unconquered nation, and thus to be left with their ambition unabated. It was to be merely a short postponement of their plan to conquer and rule the whole world. They are great bluffers.

But it was impossible to give them a peace of justice. They are getting only a piece of justice. It would have been a lie to have accorded them any peace that would have recognized them as undefeated, or to have treated them as a really civilized people.

The peace is signed, but the trickery of the Germans, which has been demonstrated again and again, is not at an end. Their defiance of all law and all honor, as shown in their recent action at Scapa Flow (still under an old order of the former kaiser), and their destruction of the flags that they had pledged themselves to deliver to France is a thing that has not been cured by signing of the peace. They will have to be watched every minute.

It will not for years be safe for France to demobilize, and it behooves Great Britain and Italy to be always ready to help again to save Europe from German trickery. Indeed occasion may arise for the United States, in behalf of the world's safety, to once more take a hand to bring the Germans to the necessity of individual and national decency. They must be watched every minute. They can not be punished for all their crimes of the world war. But they must be punished for every new crime that they perpetrate or attempt to perpetrate.

The former kaiser is said to contemplate an early return to Germany hoping to escape from Holland before the allies can secure his extradition under terms of the peace treaty. He no doubt believes he will be safer among the German people than in the hands of the representatives of the nations he has outraged. But he may be mistaken. Conditions have changed much in the faith-erland. No longer buoyed up with the hope of world conquest but defeated, humiliated if not chastened, the German people may feel in their hearts that but for the vain aspirations and egregious blundering of their once magnificent war lord they would today be numbered among the respectable nations of the earth. His reception of Germany, provided he makes his getaway, may be anything but cordial. Under the treaty the Germans are bound to give him up to justice, and should they neglect or refuse to do so it will be the worse for them. The former crown prince predicts another war within ten years. Possibly William is under the same impression and hopes to participate. The Hohenzollern family has much to learn.

The signing of the second treaty of Versailles is in marked contrast to that first treaty signed in the historic hall of mirrors under the stern dictation of the iron chancellor in 1870. It is the undoing of the work of conquest of Bismarck, real founder and builder of the military machine known as the German empire. Thus the great power that conquered France and wrested from her the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine is in turn conquered and shattered by France and her allies. It is a glorious day for the allies and for the civilized world, but it has more significance for France than for all the other nations of the earth. For her, the stigma of defeat is wiped out in splendid victory, France smiles through her tears.

Congress Approves Appropriations and Adjourns One Week

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., July 2.—Although presidential approval cannot be secured until President Wilson reaches here from Paris, no embarrassment to government departments from lack of funds is expected as a result of the action of congress last night in enacting all appropriation bills needed by the various agencies of the government for the new fiscal year that began yesterday.

After being in session until midnight the house and senate finally reached agreements on bills that have been in disposse for weeks. The measures as passed include the army bill carrying $775,000,000; the sundry civil bill carrying $605,000,000; the District of Columbia annual budget of $15,000,000 and a deficiency measure of $35,000,000.

Adjourns To July 8.
With the appropriations bill disposed of and with passage of the administration's water power bill in the house both branches adjourned until Tuesday, July 8. At that time, President Wilson is expected to present the treaty of peace with Germany and while the senate is debating that document the house will resume consideration of legislation.
The water power bill as passed in the house is substantially as reported from the committee. It provides for the lease to states, municipalities, or corporations water power sites on navigable rivers, public lands and tidal waves for period not to exceed 50 years. The right to recapture the site at the end of that period on payment of reasonable compensation is reserved to the government. Representative Raker, democrat, of California, demanded a separate vote on an amendment to the bill providing for the repeal of the provision of the rivers and harbors act creating a commission to investigate the water resources of the country. The amendment was carried by a vote of 132 to

Chicago to Enforce State Dry Measures

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., July 2.—All members of the police department are under orders today to "enforce to the letter" the terms of the state search and seizure law passed by the recent legislature.
The police order was based on legal advice of the corporation counsel.
The order means that if a beverage containing more than one-half of one percent of alcohol cannot be drunk in Chicago, that it cannot be given away, transported or sold. Violation involves arrest and prosecution, and only presidential order demobilizing the army and revoking the wartime dry law, it was asserted, would lessen police activity in keeping the "lid" down.

Nurses, when you need record sheets,
B. F. Shaw Ptg. Co. can fill your order.

COMB SAGE TEA IN . HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mossy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, because beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you—Drink more water.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

CORN AND OATS
HIT HIGH MARK
OF THE SEASON

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, July 2.—Both corn and oats today touched the highest prices yet this season. Excessive heat coupled with lack of rain had much to do broadening out of activity of buyers and with lifting values. Continued record breaking upturns in the hog market formed another bullish factor. Opening corn prices which ranged from ¾ to 1½c higher, with Sept. 1.79½ to 1.80 and Dec. 1.58 to 1.59, were followed by additional gains.

Oats kept on the ascent with corn. After opening ¾ to 1½c up, including Sept. at 70c to 70½c the market went still higher.

Provisions were hoisted by the influence of hogs and grain. Trade was fairly active.

Improved shipping demand from the east led subsequently to a further advance. Besides, rural offerings were light. The market closed buoyant, 4½c to 5½c net higher. With Sept. 1.82½ to 1.83 and Dec. 1.61½ to 1.61½.

MCKINLEY'S PRAISE
FOR ILLINOIS PRESS

Congressman William B. McKinley of Champaign, who occupied the place of honor at the right hand of President Prestin at the annual dinner of the Illinois Press Association in the Louis III room, Hotel Sherman, Chicago, paid the press of Illinois a glowing tribute in his address, as follows:

"I feel quite safe in saying that I can speak for all the people of Illinois when I congratulate you men of the Illinois newspaper fraternity on the part you played in the world war, which has just today been brought to such a happy ending for all of the world.

"I am not of your profession, but I have been a close observer and know that in dollars and cents there is no means of computing your offering to bringing about peace. The publicity you so freely gave the cause in advancing the sale of Liberty Bonds ran, I am quite sure, beyond the hundreds of thousands of dollars and was publicity of the sort money could not buy.

"On top of this, your columns were constantly open and as constantly filled in the aid of the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A. and kindred interests and this, too, free to all cost to we, the people of America. No men aside from those in the trenches did so much to bring about peace as did the newspaper men. You did not stop here, either. In addition to what you freely gave of the only commodity which you have for sale—advertising space—you went into your pockets with the rest of us and shelled out cash for Liberty Bonds, for the Red Cross, Salvation Army and for all organizations seeking aid.

"You men of the newspaper profes-
